

”Sunset at The J Hotel”

A beachfront hotel/resort inspired by the Brutalist design of Harvard’s Peabody Terrace and shaped after the letter “J.” It form wraps around a central courtyard, creating a strong communal core while maximizing ocean views. With its stacked balconies, raw geometry and bold colors, the building reinterprets Brutalist principles for a tropical resort setting, blending structure and symbolism with relaxation and recreation.

Joshua Ramlakhan

